What Is GUNPLA?

GUNDAM + PLASTIC MODEL = GUNPLA

GUNPLA is the common name for plastic models of Mobile Suits, Mobile Armor and other robots or battleships that appear on the "MOBILE SUIT GUNDAM" series.

HGUC 1:144 scale RX-78-2 GUNDAM

Devotion to GUNPLA

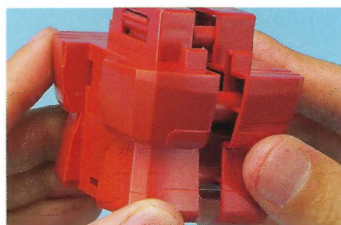

Over 473 million GUNPLA models have been sold in the past 37 years since the 1:144 GUNDAM was first released in 1980. GUNPLA models are now made domestically in Japan from planning & development to production at the BANDAI Hobby Center in "Hobby City Shizuoka" in order to maintain high quality and accurately meet market demand while ensuring uniformity in design.

This is where GUNPLA shines !

POINT-1

Snap-fit

Parts can be easily assembled without adhesives by simply snapping them together.

Before

Used Glue

Too much glue makes a crunchy GUNPLA. And too often the hands would get glued together...

Now

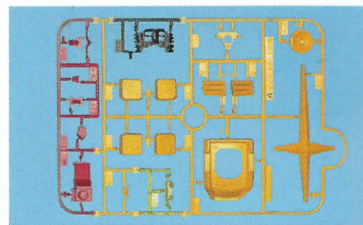

No Glue!

Easy assembly without the dirty work.

POINT-2

iroPLA

Special technology "Multi-color molding" casts several colors on the same runner at once. Your GUNPLA is colorful straight from the get go.

Before

Needed Paint

There is nothing worse than making that accidental brush stroke when you're almost finished.

Now

No Paint!

No need to paint and wait, your GUNPLA is built with color.

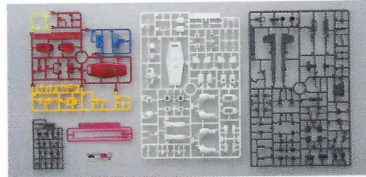

Example is HGUC 1:144 RX-78-2 GUNDAM Model.

A Before Assembly

Before beginning assembly, check the set contents and read the assembly manual for a smooth process.

Assembly manual

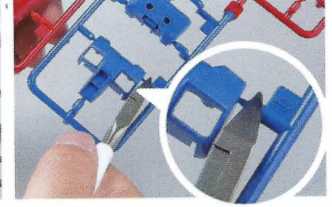

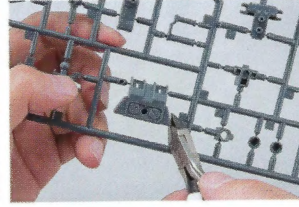

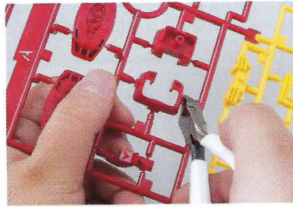

sprue frame

Have a set of diagonal pliers on hand. A set of tweezers will help, too.

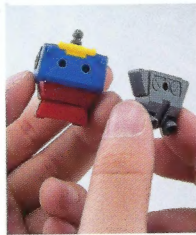

B Cut Out the Parts

Following the steps in the assembly manual, cut out the necessary parts from the sprue frame.

C Assembly

After cutting out the parts, assemble them while making sure they are facing correctly.

D Attach the Decals

It's easier to attach smaller decals with tweezers.

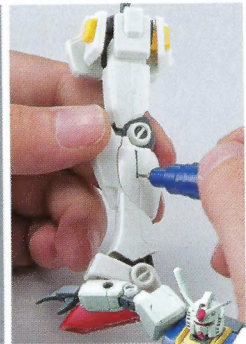

E Finish & Strike a Pose

Try different equipment combinations and look at photos in the package for ideas on cool poses.

F Ink in Some Detail

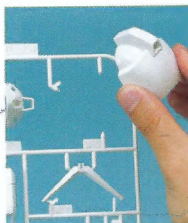

Take your GUNPLA to another level by inking in some lines in between grooves using a GUNDAM Marker or an inking pen (sold separately).

POINT-3 Touchgate

Gate geometry that makes it possible to pull out parts from the runner without diagonal pliers or other tools.

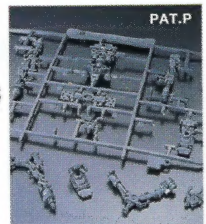

POINT-4 Undergate

Gate geometry that hides the areas where parts are cut away from the runner.

POINT-5 Multi-Insert Castings

Special technology that molds parts so they can fit together. Parts cut out from runners can be easily assembled.

Required Skills and Tools for Quality Finish

Files and other tools were needed to laboriously grind away conspicuous burrs.

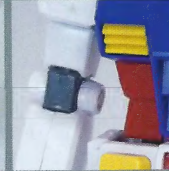

Before

Looks Great Straight Away!

Now

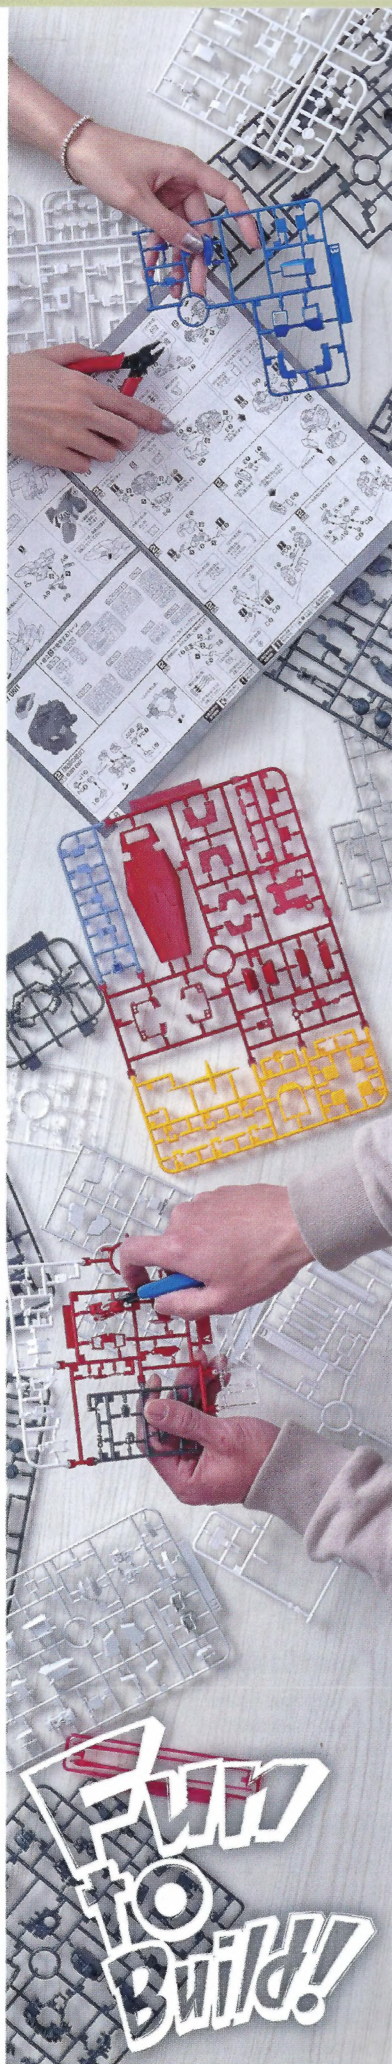

No tools required, just assemble and your finished GUNPLA looks great.

Now, anyone can easily assemble a great-looking GUNPLA!

* The technology differs by GUNPLA type.

BUILD

Anyone can easily assemble them!
Let's experience the fun of making them!

1 Choose your kit

Try and pick a kit you like when you find BANDAI SPIRITS model corners at stores or at events! The exciting view of different kits stacked up high is unique to model corners!

DISCOVER

You can learn something new during the process!
The unique fun of making things!

Structure of hand parts

Four types of fixed hand parts for the left and right side have been adopted to recreate the manipulators. Their internal sections incorporate chrome plating, emphasizing the intricate metallic textures throughout the hands.

Leg sliding mechanism

Each of the parts move in conjunction using the internal frame created with an insert-molded frame as a core to enable sliding armor parts and dynamic joint structures.

CUSTOMIZE

You don't have to stop after assembling them!
The excitement of GUNPLA lies beyond making them!

I want to make the fine details on my robot to stand out!

Before

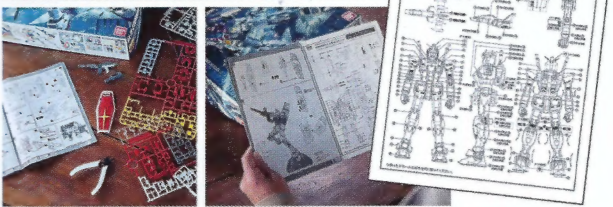

Use the tip of your pencil and draw along the mold line.

2 Open the box

After you get your kit, bring it home and open the box! You will find "runners" that connect the parts that are going to be assembled as well as an instruction manual. Check out the kit you're about to assemble!

They almost look like information for actual robots!

3 Assemble

Nippers

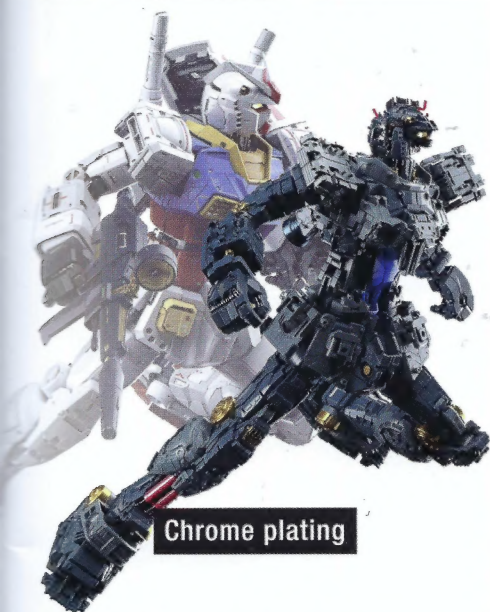

You can use nail clippers if you don't have nippers.

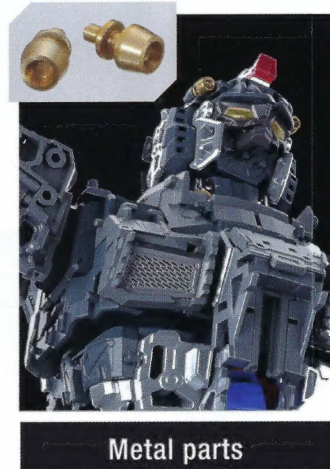

It's as though you're assembling an actual robot!

Watching the process of flat parts taking in shape is one of the exciting points of making things.

Chrome plating

Metal parts

Metal parts are adopted to Vulcan Cannons on the heads and the verniers on the backpack. These allow for even more realistic expressions.

I want to make my robot more realistic by adding dirt and give it a used feel!

After

The molds will stand out and give the robot a hefty look!

Before

Shave the core of your pencil to create a powder and apply it throughout the kit with a cotton swab.

After

It will look much better in photos after you apply the shavings!

BANDAI HOBBY CENTER

Devotion to GUNPLA

The "BANDAI Hobby Center" is BANDAI SPIRITS Hobby Division's manufacturing base. All steps, from planning and development, designing, prototyping, production and shipping, take place here. Since the birth of the "1/144 GUNDAM" in 1980, over 473 million GUNPLA have been sent out to the world (as of March 2017), making it a true "GUNPLA factory."

How GUNPLA are made
Planning/Development

Planning is the process where we think, "What kind of GUNPLA should we make?" For example, we plan to create GUNPLA based on Mobile Suits that appear in new TV and movie series. We also choose to make kits based on Mobile Suits from older series that fans will enjoy. Once the product is decided on, we begin considering its specifications, such as gimmicks, with staff in-charge of design and development.

How GUNPLA are made
Design

We begin design with computers using source clips and setting images. A three-dimensional design using 3D CAD data, which is also used in architecture, and parts division, internal structures, transformation gimmicks are added. GUNPLA that are easy to assemble and have wide ranges of articulation cannot be created without "Japanese craftsmanship" technology.

How GUNPLA are made
Prototype

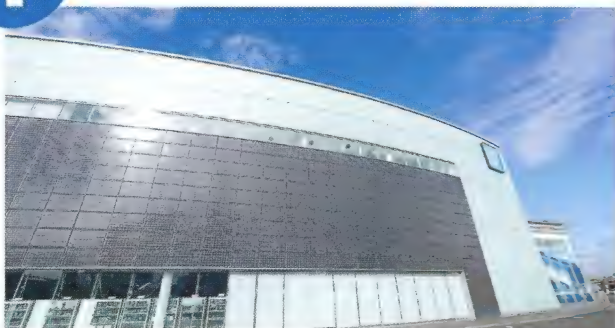

The design data is outputted using a 3D printer, and articulation and gimmicks are checked. This prototype production process was done by hand in the past and took several weeks. However, it can now be quickly done in a few hours with 3D printers. We will also increase the accuracy of our designs through detailed checks of each part, as well as the whole body of the kit.

Hobby Center Trivia

Trivia

An eco-friendly factory

The exterior wall is a solar power panel and supports the power of the factory. It is an eco-friendly factory with a purification system that can reuse 20 million tons of rainwater and groundwater every year.

Trivia

Employees have rank insignias

Employees have rank insignias that indicate their position. Uniforms are based on the uniform of the Earth Federation Forces featured in MOBILE SUIT GUNDAM, and there are two "office use" and "factory use" types.

BANDAI

How GUNPLA are made

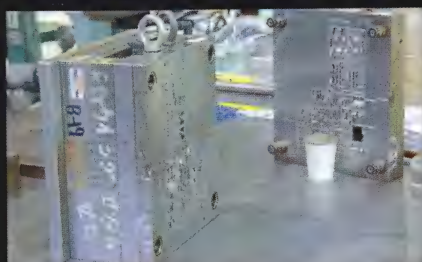

4 Mold

How GUNPLA are made

5 Production

How GUNPLA are made

6 Shipping

The metal casting molds are literal "molds" used to make plastic resin parts according to their design data. The basic parts of the molds are made by machine, but fine adjustment and corrections are done by craftsmen. These delicate adjustments determine the rigidity of the joints and holding capabilities. The molds can weigh up to over a ton! Cranes are used to move them around.

GUNPLA are produced with multi-color molding machines. "Multi-color molding" is a technology that allows the multiple colors to be recreated on one runner. Hobby Center is the only place in the world where this technology is made possible. The GUNPLA are made by setting the molds in the multi-color molding machine. Each runner only takes about 20 seconds to make. This enables mass production.

Once the runners are made, they are packed into boxes and the GUNPLA is complete. All processes from the development to production, packaging, packing and shipping take place in the Hobby Center. Completed GUNPLA are sent to fans all over the world.

Trivia

The factory operates 24-hours.

▼ Automatic transporters colored red with "antennas" resembling Char's Mobile Suits, as well as green ones based on mass-produced Zaks, work day and night.

The factory is operated by 3 shifts over 24 hours. This means that GUNPLA are being manufactured all day and night. Moreover, only three people are in charge of production and they manage the multi-color molding machines. Automatic transporters are used to carry plastic materials and completed GUNPLA.

Trivia

Types of multi-color injection machines

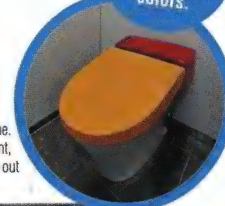

▲ The latest electromotive type machine put to use from 2015. Its colors resemble the "Black Tri-Stars" from MOBILE SUIT GUNDAM.

▼ An old hydraulic multi-color molding machine. Its specifications are different, having no robot arm to take out runners.

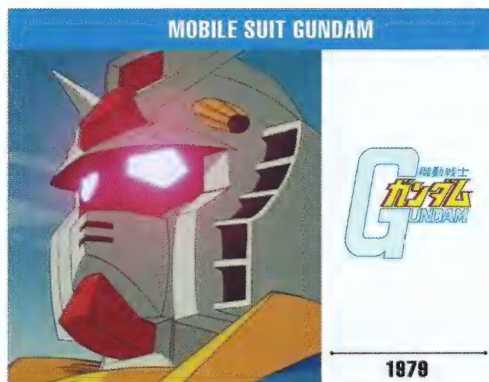

There are currently seventeen multi-color injection machines being used. There are electromotive and hydraulic multi-color injection machines, and the electromotive type machines are approx. 1.2 times faster than hydraulic type machines when it comes to production rates.

Even the bathrooms are themed with MS style colors.

In Cosmic Era (C.E.) 70...

"The tensions mounted between the Earth Alliance and the ZAFT Forces caused by the 'Bloody Valentine' tragedy have erupted into an all-out war." The Earth Alliance's mobile armor forces and tanks launch...mobile suits are destroyed one after another...

"It seemed a foregone conclusion that the Earth Alliance, with its superior numbers, would be victorious. But this initial assessment proved to be false. Almost 11 months have passed since the conflict began, with no end in sight..."

STORY

C.E. 70 - The battle between the Earth Alliance and the ZAFT Forces caused by the 'Bloody Valentine' tragedy was fought with fierce desperation.

A cease-fire treaty was signed after the second battle of Jachin Due took a heavy toll of lives on both sides. But the treaty did not necessarily resolve the root of the conflict between the Naturals and Coordinators. During the war, Shin Asuka is caught in the Orb invasion by the Earth Alliance, losing his parents and sister right in front of him while escaping. Shin clenches their only keepsake, his sister's cellphone, and grieves, as the ringleader of this war "Mobile Suit Gundam" flies away overhead. He leaves Orb in despair and relocates to PLANT.

C.E. 73...he has become a ZAFT warrior.

Cutout enhancements make it fun and easy even for GUNPLA beginners!

POINT 1

No special tools necessary for assembly. Not even diagonal pliers!

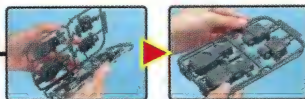

Parts can be snapped out by hand without using diagonal pliers.

* Using tools such as diagonal pliers can provide a more polished look.

POINT 3

Fast and fun sprue lock assembly.

The "sprue lock" method lets you assemble entire sprues (frames) of parts at once for fast and fun assembly.

* Only applicable for some sprues. Not all sprues use the sprue lock method.

Color illustrated manual and intuitive color-coded icons.

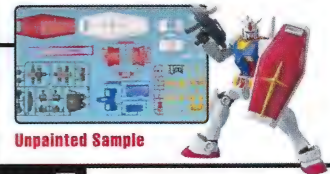

A color illustration and photo-filled manual is included. Follow point by point beginner marks to avoid often made mistakes.

POINT 6

Your GUNPLA uses iroPLA so it looks cool even without painting!

The plastic castings for each part are color separated from the outset so your assembled GUNDAM is realistic even without painting.

Unpainted Sample

POINT 2

Snapfit assembly means you don't need no stinking adhesives!

Current mainstream GUNPLA use "snapfit" parts for assembly without adhesives.

POINT 4

Double separator

A "double separator" is included to easily cut parts out of sprues.

Dead simple assembly with the double separator.

Legend of icons

Numbers and icons are used to identify parts. The location of the necessary parts for any given section you are assembling is clearly marked.

POINT 5

POINT 7

Use specially made GUNDAM decals to enhance detail!

Paste special made decals for a cooler look!!
